

Facts & Information

Tintswalo Safari Lodge is one of only three commercial lodges located in the pristine Manyeleti Nature Reserve. Boasting 24,000 hectares of untouched African wilderness within the world-renowned Greater Kruger National Park. Tintswalo Safari Lodge is easily accessible via a short drive from Hoedspruit airport, or six-hour drive from Johannesburg self drive or transfer.

Fully-accredited, qualified guides and local trackers take guests on authentic African safari experiences with exceptional game viewing offered twice daily in open safari vehicles. The abundance of wildlife guarantees uninterrupted, intimate encounters with a great variety of animals, including sightings of the Big Five, as well as a plethora of fascinating insects, reptiles and 300 species of birds found in the region.

A landmark of luxury accommodation and service, Tintswalo Safari Lodge offers six Explorer Suites, as well as the expansive Baines Presidential Suite, and the 2-bedroom Grant Family Suite. Travellers are accommodated in these luxuriously decorated suites which reflect the adventures of the 19th-century explorers they are named after. Each air-conditioned suite is furnished with a lavish en-suite bathroom, as well as a private deck with a plunge pool, allowing guests the privacy to relax and soak up the African sun and wilderness from the comfort of their suite.
